The Case of Albert Irving Williamson.

Now, Albert Irving Williamson was innocent and young; Nor evil thought was in his mind, nor word upon his tongue. He drank no alcoholic brews, he smoked no nicotine; He was about as good a youth as I have ever seen.

But alcohol and nicotine, injurious though they be, Are utterly irrelevant to Albert's historee. Still, if I choose to mention things that are irrelevant. Pray, who are you to censure me or tell me that I can't

He was, I say, a blameless youth who shunned the sinful deeps; He never played at marbles with the other boys for keeps; He never played a gambling game of any kind or sort-Young Albert Irving Williamson was not at all a sport.

Now. Albert chanced to ride upon a Pullman palace smoker Whose occupants, a rough and vulgar crowd, were playing poker. "Ah, ha" then whispered one of them as Albert came in sight, "Leave us go after this here boob and trim the sucker right."

(I do not hold with talk like that, but it is not this bard's. It is the verbiage used by such as like to play at cards.) "Oh, please to play a bit with us," up spake those gambling men, "Sit in with us till Utica-we're due at seven-ten."

So Albert Irving Williamson, who knew no single rule Of poker, played with men who thought that Albert was a fool-Our Albert Irving Williamson, to whose untutored mind The nine of straights was just as good as seven of a kind.

Oh, pride it is a parlous thing, and comes before a fall! The gamblers went for Albert's roll until they got it all. In spite of Albert's ignorance, of which there was a lot, Our hero did not win a single solitary pot.

Now and then one observes a woman who may be, one imagines, the model for a 36 or a 38; but where is the man with long enough arms to give one the impression that he might be a shirt model?

Robins Low Because They Do Not Bat Out Runs .- Evening Sun headline.

The sport writers are irrefutable.

Fox Meadow Tennis Club Anthology.

Judging by the sumptuous way in which you live There is evidently considerable intelligence displayed from 10 to 8 each

At 25 Broad Street. But, Fritz Aspinwall, why is it that after you insist on standing at the net You appear as one stricken with a form of amnesia When soft returns come to you

That even Leroy Miller could negotiate, You let them pass, disdainful, as if they didn't mix in your set,

Extolling tennis all the while as a splendid exercise .

Ah! Fritz, what a theme you'd make for the old-fashioned rhyming

"The successful business man at play."

"Away went Gilpin-who but he?" a contrib quotes from Cowper, citing that in defence of Senator Root's recent error, which this Plinth of Purism commented on. And Emerson's "Rich are the sea-gods: who give gifts but they!" "The Tower implied," says our contrib, "that Senator Root and Felicia Hemans ["whence all but he had fled"] had made an unusual and indefensible interchange of preposition and conjunction." Unusual, no; indefensible, yes. Indefensible when Shakespeare does it. Indefensible

SLAMBANGO AND BRAZENE.

BY HORATIO WINSLOW, FROM "PUCK," APRIL 8, 1908. He says, "Why does your brother "Oh strolling in the garden, Look at his watch so long?" There generally can be seen The well-known sketch and comedy team, Slambango and Brazene."

The latest shameless air.

Slambango, rough and hasty,

And polished gent, Brazene.

To point their slightest joke!

We watch them at their inning

Until the woodwinds shake "Ye should have called on Hooley

The night he hod his wake."

Twould stump all but another

When, finishing the song,

And chuckle at the pith Of those remarks beginning. "Who was that I seen you with?"

His face a gentle green, Performing with that pasty

How merrily they caper Before us simple folk. With brick and club of paper

In all their gay apparel,

But nightly-aye, and daily-Slambango plays the ace "Recause." he answers gaily, We watch the artiess pair Jig on, R. L. and carol

"A woman's in the case.

Crack! crack! the slapstick clatters! Kerflop! Slambango falls! And then the seltzer splatters Upon the canvas walls.

What peasant, prince or chappy, What man of toil or ease, Could be aught else but happy

Who help our bad digestions With japes of age and size. And point each other's questions

With slaps upon the thighs? So though the purse be meagre, Yet let us pay our way

And listen, tense and eager, While they to them do say:

"Oh strolling in the garden, There generally can be seen The well-known sketch and comedy team, Slambango and Brazene.

Our friends in the advertising profession may listen to Alice, in St. John G. Ervine's "Alice and a Family": "Wot you got to do in this business, or any other business," she said, by way of introduction, "is to get 'old of people, see? You got to catch their eyes, sort of, see! An' it don't matter whether they understand wot you say or not, so long as you get 'old of 'em, see! Now, supposin' you 'ad somethink to sell, an' you was to go down the Walworth Road to the Elfincassel, see, an' you was to shout out 'Bow-wow' all the time until you got a crowd round you, that wouldn't mean nothink at all, would it? I mean to say, you ain't a dog, are you? It ain't natural for you to say 'Bow-wow,' is it?" , Mr. Nudds had to admit that this was so. "No, you ain't," Alice went on, "but if you was to get that crowd round you, an' was to start sellin' things to 'em as fast as you could say 'Bow-wow,' wot would it matter whether it meant anythink or nothink, eh?"

Lines to the Free Feet of Free Verse.

Dear little feet that used to dance When poets piped a measure, Now that you find yourselves emanc-Ipated-what's your pleasure?

We've set you free to roam at will, The poets' pipes are shattered; But oh, the memory haunts me still-How prettily you pattered!

And when I hear you clumping by Any old way, So long as you get there, Somehow, I get the feeling That you're being fooled and cheated; Because feet are always happier when they're dancing To music: It is their nature to. Honest. Take it from me!

that started all the European trouble. "By the way," asks A. R. F., "what happened to Prinzip, anyhow?"

A year ago yesterday it was that Garvio Prinzip fired the shot

Justice Hendrick says that the trial of the Thaw case in the newspapers must stop.

Here are two columns of immunity, your Honor.

ZIONISTS CLASH ON PLAN TO GET PALESTINE LAND

One Faction Insists That Members Only Shall Establish State.

CONGRESS WILL BE HELD IN CAPITAL

November 1 Is Probable Date-Boston Conference Has Stormy Session.

IBy Telegraph te The Tribune 1
Roston, June 28.—The eighteenth annual convention of the Federation of American Zionists opened officially today with the meeting of delegates in the Old City Club. The session was stormy. For a time the presiding officer, Louis Lipsky, lost control of the situation and was accused by one of of the speakers of recognizing only certain factions, while missing and shouting added to the confusion.

One of the clashes was between the faction which is urging that only "Zionists" should establish the proposed Jewish state in Palestine and the faction which contends that all Jewish organizations should take part in the movement.

movement.

The tumult started with the submission of a resolution for the provisional committee. It read:

"The provisional committee having on May 9, 1915, declared itself in favor of convening into an American-Jewish congress on the democratic basis, this conference of the constituent organization of the provisional committee approves that delegation of policy. In furtherance thereof it urges the provisional committee to invite the cooperation of other national Jewish organizations in the United States to issue a joint call for an American Jewish congress which shall consider the proper steps to be taken to obtain full civil status for the Jews in all lands and the further development of a home lend for the Jewish people in Palestine."

tumult started with the sub-samuel H. Borovsky, a Boston dele-gate, was immediately on his feet. He tried to introduce a motion, but was not recognized. Fifteen or twenty other men rose and seemingly several were recognized at once. Points of order and points of information were called for by the score, shouts arose and the chairman in vain pounded his gavel for order.

Finally Harry N. Gutterman, another Recton delocate was recognized.

Boston delegate, was recognized.

"Mr. Chairman," he said, "have you a list of delegates whom you will recognize to the exclusion of all others?"

The chairman said this was an insult, and several speakers backed him up in resenting it.

After considerable discussion on both sides it was finally decided to refer the matter to the general congress, which will be held in Washington on Nover-

WANAMAKER'S GRANDDAUGHTER MARRIED YESTERDAY.

St. Mark's Crowded with Fashionable Folk of Three Cities.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

believes that there are families on the hill who are ready to move away, but who would remain if they could live in an apartment house like those on upper Park Avenue. With apartments on the are ready to move away, but who would remain if they could live in an apartment house like those on upper Park Avenue. With apartments on the side streets for those who wish to live in single houses."

Behman Show at Columbia.

With several additions to its comedy and musical features, the Behman Show, with Lew Kelly, began the cighth week of its all-summer run at the Columbia vesterday. The most noticeable new feature was the appearance of Morton and Moore, the come of Morton and More of the Morton and More of the presented to the defence of the proposal the feet of the proposal the feet

Factionable Folk of the property of the control of

800 MORE KIDDIES NEED FRESH AIR

Another Settlement Asks The Tribune to Help Its Little Wards.

FUND INCREASES, SO DO THE NEEDY

Social Worker Tells of Family DEATH OVERTAKES Typical of Those Who Want the Country.

Fresh Air vacations? Are there children who need them? One of the best Retired Jurist of New York known social settlements in the city has asked the Tribune Fresh Air Fund to provide vacations for 800 children that have come under its notice.

One of the residents of this settlement believes that if the people of New 800 children for whom his settlement will be held Thumday. has asked Fresh Air Fund to help:

Have you ever seen a rear tenement are many of these "residences" in New desperate. The husband was out of work; there was no money for food or rent, and they were in danger of being dispossessed. Just in the nick of time the "friendly visitor" from a nearby settlement found them. As she entered the rooms the mother was feeding coid tea out of a nursing bottle to the three-months-old baby, because there was no money to buy even milk that day. The children were crying for

NOTES OF PLAYS

AND PLAYERS

Eva Tanguay at Palace

—Orville Harrold at New Brighton.

Eva Tanguay, with several new songs, was the headliner at the Palace Theatre yesterday. The eccentric comedienne has adjusted her afferences with the management and was well received at yesterday's matinee. After her new selections she registered another success with all her old-time hits, which she gave at the request of the large audience. Many Lambs were the large audience, Many Lambs were the large audience. Many Lambs were the large audience. Many Lambs were the large audience. Many Lambs were the large audience and contined to Governor Hill for his appoint ment was signed by the Supreme Court in the unemployed was a fifty cents from the unemployed was a fifty cents from the sum of fourteen years, beginning with the found in the first day at the received his allowance for lunch-seven cents – went out of the wist of the children of the destitute poor. But different times some of the children of the destitute poor. But different times some of the children of the destitute poor. But different times

SUNDAYS, July 4, 18, Augu 15, 29, September 12

WEDNESDAYS, July 7, 21, Augu 4 and 18

PEN SYLVANIA R. R.

IOHN CLINTON GRAY

Court of Appeals Was 72 Years Old.

Newport, R. I., June 28 .- John Clinton Gray, judge of the Court of Appeals of New York for many years, died York can be made to understand how at his summer home here to-day. He great is the need they will see to it was stricken with a paralytic shock last that the vacations are provided. He Wednesday and pneumonia set in a day tells in the following paragraphs of later. Judge Gray was seventy-two one family which, he says, is typical years old. The body will be sent to of the families from which come the New York Wednesday and the funeral

John Clinton Gray was appointed to or yardhouse on the East Side? There the New York State Court of Appeals in January, 1888, as the successor of York. They are not exactly the most desirable places to live in. They are dark, ill ventillated, depressing.

A family of Austrians lives in one of these so-called homes in Ludow Street. The family came to this country twenty years ago. The household, consisting of the father, mother and seven children, the eldest a boy of eleven, occupies three small rooms on the top floor. The father is able to make about 37 a week as a laborer.

Last winter the family's case became desperate. The husband was out of Judge Rapallo. He was then the young-of law in this city. He was appointed referee in important cases by justices seessed. Just in the nick of time friendly visitor" from a nearby ment found them. As she entered some the mother was feeding cold out of a nursing bottle to the months-old baby, because there no money to buy even milk that The children were crying for the highest court of the state. The petition to Governor Hill for his appointment was a fined by the Supreme Court.

WATERWORTH—At his residence, 141
Tyson st., New Brighton, Staten Island, on Sunday, June 27, 1915, Henry Wetherhead Waterworth, husband of Margaret Davenport Alexander and son of the late John Waterworth, of Cheltenham, England, in the 63d year of his age. Funeral services will be held at Christ Church, Franklin ave., on Wednesday, June 30, on the arrival of the 3:40 boat from New York. Take trolley to foot of Franklin ave. Interment private.

CEMETERIES.

THE WOODLAWN CEMETERY,
2d St. By Harjem Train and by Trolley.
Lots of small size for sale.
Office, 29 East 234 St. N. Z.

F. P. A.